The International Island Country Artists Art Society was established on a local basis with a group exhibition in an Organization held within the scope of the Citta Slow Committee Meeting in Isparta Province, Eđirdir, Türkiye on October 27, 2017. International Island Country Artists take their name from the islands in Lake Eđirdir, where they were founded. Askawana means "Island Land" in Luwian in ancient times, and the group has drawn a route by combining its name with art in this mystical journey.

International Island Country Artists is an interdisciplinary art community and has carried out different activities in many art branches. At the same time, published the International Island Country Fine Arts Magazine in 2021. "International Island Country Artists have been continuing their work without any financial support or grant since the day it was founded. All the artists in the International Island Country Artists Art Community continue their project activities and activities on a completely voluntary basis in a way that will benefit the society" All of the projects produced with the aim of ensuring the unifying power of art, the social responsibility of art and its transfer to future generations, include audio-visual projects and applications.
